Last year's Student Activities Committee (SAC) was changed to the Financial Committee (FC) at the end of the second semester of the 1967-68 academic year, due to the structural change planned for this year in the committee system under the Student Council. The committee not only got a new name, but also adopted a new constitution. The primary purpose of the Financial Committee is to allot portions of the total amount of Activity Fees paid by each student to the other sub-committees of the Student Council.

SC

Social Committee

The Social Committee (SC) took over the duties of last year's Student Activities Committee (SAC) at the beginning of the 1967-68 academic year, also due to the structural change planned for this year in the committee system under the Student Council. The Social Committee is in charge of providing Big Name Entertainment and allotting funds to campus organizations for all-campus functions. The Social Committee proved its effectiveness by providing never a dull weekend. Featured appearances were made by Bob Kuban and the In Men, the Drifters, Josh White, Jr., and Dick Gregory.

Hell Week

Through the efforts of the Hell Week Committee, the class of 1971 was exposed to the freshman orientation held in years past, after the Frosh Week orientation program proved unsuccessful. The Frosh displayed their spirit and enthusiasm in Hell Week, wearing their monkey suits and trying to be "stupid Frosh."

Big Name Entertainment

Bob Kuban and the In Men

This year's Social Committee provided a fine schedule of big name entertainment for the Park College student body. On November 18, Bob Kuban and the In Men gave a highly successful dance in Upper Commons. The Drifters, long-time recording stars, were on the Park campus December 16. The second semester featured Josh White, Jr., folk singer and balladeer, on February 6 and comedian Dick Gregory on March 16. Student attendance at these performances was high, and there is already much anticipation for next year's big name entertainers.

Kuban's performance was in the form of a dance, rather than a concert.

SUDC Carnival and Auction

Chesnut
Chesnut

Overworked Joe Mastrangelo prepares to arm the next sucker. . .

The Hermits' pie-throwing booth helps preserve the carnival atmosphere.

Pie-throwing becomes lucrative at the auction. Here, Frank Imperiale creams a foe. . .

On Saturday, February 24, Upper Commons was decorated with the paraphernalia of the SUDC Carnival and Auction. The greatest fund-raising events on Park's campus, the Carnival and Auction are successful in proportion to the desire of the student body to improve student facilities.

The Carnival boasted thirteen booths, constructed and managed by the various campus organizations. The Auction began at 9:00 p.m. with the auctioneering of Messrs Fogarty and Ampola, two Parkville professionals who donated their services. Bids for the Auction were submitted by students, faculty and staff. The Nickel Steak Dinner, going for $126.00 was one of the items which helped to raise the proceeds of the evening to $2192.60. This amount, in turn, boosted the total SUDC fund to nearly $8000.00. Dave Miller and Janet Johnston are SUDC Co-chairmen.

ICC Spring Weekend

April 5-6 was declared the ICC Spring Weekend. A treasure hunt, softball game and formal dance provided a full weekend for those who participated. The dance "La Primavera," was held at the Hotel Muehlebach, with music provided by "Blue Velvet". A concert by "The Detroit Wheels" and David, della Rose and Brooks was part of the entertainment. The festivities culminated in a steak dinner, on Sunday, in honor of the ICC Royalty.

"La Primavera"

Honors Day Convocation

Park's annual Honors Day Convocation was held April 17. The purpose of the convocation is to recognize the academic achievement of outstanding Park students. Dr. Earl McGrath, Chancellor of Eisenhower College, Seneca Falls, N.Y., gave the convocation address, and received the honorary doctor of divinity degree.

Graduation

It's the end, baby. . .

Park's graduation ceremonies were lifted out of the mundane this year by the appearances of Harold Stassen and Harry Belafonte as commencement speakers. Mr. Stassen, perennial presidential hopeful, delivered a non-partisan address and received an honorary doctor of letters degree before the fifty December graduates, their families and friends. Appearing not as an entertainer, but as a humanitarian, Mr. Belafonte addressed the May graduating class. For his little-publicized work with the Peace Corps, the OEO and the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, Mr. Belafonte received the honorary doctor of humane letters degree.
